THE HIDDEN FLAW

”Ask yourself why your last ten trades happened. Be honest. ’A friend said.’ ’It looked like it was going up.’ ’Someone posted it.’ ’I had a feeling.’ That’s not trading — that’s guessing with money.”

Guessing has no edge, no consistency, and no way to improve, because there’s nothing to measure. Every losing trader has the same hidden flaw: no system. No defined rules for what to trade, when to enter, when to exit, or how much to risk. Without that, you’re not running a process — you’re rolling dice and calling it analysis.

THE SHIFT

A trade should be the output of a rule, not a feeling.

GUT-‘FEEL’ TRADE

- X “It looks like it’s going up”
- X No defined entry rule
- X Stop loss: “I’ll sell if it really drops”
- X Target: undefined
- X Risk: “full position, it’ll recover”

Outcome (typical)

-3.2R

RULES-BASED TRADE

- ✓ Setup: Breakout above resistance + volume
- ✓ Entry: Candle close confirmation
- ✓ Stop: Below swing low (written pre-trade)
- ✓ Target: 2:1 R:R (locked in advance)
- ✓ Risk: 1% of capital — no exceptions

Outcome (this setup, historical)

+2.1R

ABOUT THE INSTRUCTOR

”I’m not a ‘feel the market’ trader. I trade rules I can write down, test, and defend — and that’s exactly what I’ll teach you.”

My approach to trading is rooted in evidence, not instinct. Every system I trade has been written out, tested against historical data, and stress-tested against my own biases. I’ve taught over 12,000 learners to build their own — not to copy mine.

What learners say

Individual results vary. These are personal experiences, not guarantees of financial returns.

★★★★★

”I’m an engineer — ‘trust your gut’ made me run. A rules-based, testable system was the first approach that made sense to me. Now every trade I take, I can explain why.”

Rahul D.
Software Engineer • Bengaluru

★★★★★

”Back-testing changed my whole relationship with trading. I stopped trusting tips and started trusting evidence. I can now look at a trade and know whether the idea historically had an edge.”

WHAT YOU’LL LEARN

7-module masterclass agenda

01 Why gut-feel has no edge

What an ‘edge’ actually means, and why most traders don’t have one.

02 Writing your rules

Setup, entry, exit and risk — with zero ambiguity. On paper, before every trade.

03 Reading structure and data

Price action, support/resistance, volume — historical, analytical, evidenced.

04 Back-testing basics

Does your idea hold up on past data? How to test it honestly and what the limits are.

05 Risk and position sizing

Fixed rules so one trade can never sink your account.

06 Mechanical execution

Following the system when emotion screams otherwise. The hardest — and most important — skill.

07 Journaling and iteration

Using your own trade data to continuously improve your rules. The professional’s feedback loop.

WHAT YOU GET

Everything included, free

Rules-Based Strategy Template
